While the officer was attempting to speak with the first driver the female drove away fleeing the stop. The officer pursued and initially lost the suspect's vehicle, but found it crashed near the Carson Bay Boat launch and the entrance to Chimo West. Officers searched for the female with a drone and two K-9 teams. The female was identified by her passport and a SLMPD Officer who had stopped her a short while before. The vehicle was towed from the scene after the search was called off due to severe weather moving into the area.
