Island Vibes Returns Bigger and Better for Its Second Year

GLEN COVE, N.Y. – Following the tremendous turnout for last summer’s Island Vibes event, the popular waterfront celebration is returning for its second year with an expanded five-week schedule at Pryibil Beach.

The free event will take place every Wednesday from August 5 through September 2, from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. at Pryibil Beach on East Beach Road. Island Vibes is open to everyone.

Guests can enjoy a rotating selection of food and dessert trucks, live entertainment, children’s activities, cornhole and beautiful sunsets overlooking the Long Island Sound. Pryibil Beach also offers shaded areas, picnic tables, a playground, volleyball court and fishing pier. Attendees are encouraged to bring beach chairs and blankets and wear their tropical best.

“We continue to create opportunities for residents and visitors to come together, experience the beauty of Glen Cove and enjoy all that our city has to offer,” said Mayor Pamela D. Panzenbeck.

“After the incredible response to last year’s one-night event, we are excited to expand Island Vibes into a five-week series at Pryibil Beach,” said Roni Jenkins, Glen Cove Public Relations Officer and Director of Special Events. “It is the perfect setting for food, music, family activities and an incredible sunset.”

Island Vibes is organized by the Glen Cove Special Events Committee, a volunteer organization dedicated to creating activities that bring the community together.

Each evening will feature different food and dessert trucks, along with live entertainment ranging from island and classic rock to country, pop, freestyle and more. Food truck and entertainment lineups are subject to change.
