Bond Proposition Early Voting Starts Monday, October 20

November Ballot Essentials and Countywide Polling Options

Dear Highland Haven Residents,

I hope this beautiful October weekend is treating you well as we soak up the last of this mild fall warmth. It's been just a week since our last update—where we dove deep into previews for our second Town Hall on Thursday, October 23, at 6 p.m. at the Community Center. If you'd like the full scoop on the agenda, including water and road infrastructure priorities, stormwater projects, and ideas for expanding city services, check out that edition here: Update #19. We hope you'll join us for an evening of collaboration, light refreshments, and your invaluable input—doors open at 5:30 p.m.!

With early voting for the November 4 bond election beginning this Monday, October 20, here is factual information about the ballot measure and voting options. The ballot includes Proposition A, a yes/no (for/against) vote on a $1,000,000 General Obligation Bond. The bond would fund the purchase of adjacent property to the city's water plant and some infrastructure updates. There would be no increase to taxes or water rates as a result of the bond. For additional details on the proposition, visit www.highlandhaventx.com or contact me at cityadministrator@highlandhaventx.com.

As Burnet County residents, you can cast your ballot at any early voting location countywide. Early voting information:
