MAYOR BODILY'S REPORT

Just a reminder that the City Dinner will be held at the pavilion uptown on September 12 from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. We will also be holding an open house at the fire station that evening. I hope everyone will come up, get some dinner, and bring their kids over to see the fire station and learn more about what our firefighters do. If you have ever had any interest in getting involved, this will be a great time to ask questions and see what it is all about.

We are also working on some improvements at the city office that should make things easier for both residents and staff. In the coming months, this will include a new utility billing portal that should save time and help things run more smoothly. More information will be provided as we get closer.

I have also spent a lot of time in meetings regarding the Cache Fire Protection District. It seems like we are starting to see some forward movement, but there are still a lot of details to work through. We will see how it all shakes out, and I will continue working to make sure Lewiston and our neighboring small communities are represented.

As always, I appreciate our employees and everyone else who continues to help keep the city running.

Observed the first Monday in September, Labor Day is an annual celebration of the social and economic achievements of American workers.

The holiday is rooted in the late nineteenth century, when labor activists pushed for a federal holiday to recognize the many contributions workers have made to America's strength, prosperity, and well-being.

Many Americans celebrate Labor Day with parades and parties – festivities very similar to those outlined by the first proposal for a holiday, which suggested that the day should be observed with – a street parade to exhibit "the strength and esprit de corps of the trade and labor organizations" of the community, followed by a festival for the recreation and amusement of the workers and their families. This became the pattern for the celebrations of Labor Day.

American labor has raised the nation's standard of living and contributed to the greatest production the world has ever known and the labor movement has brought us closer to the realization of our traditional ideals of economic and political democracy. It is appropriate, therefore, that the nation pays tribute on Labor Day to the creator of so much of the nation's strength, freedom, and leadership – the American worker.

Due to Labor Day on Monday, September 7th, garbage collection day will be moved to Saturday, September 12th that week instead of Friday.

All other weeks will be on Friday as normal.
