Implementation

The overall planning process has resulted in the review of information and background data relating to the past, present, and future of the City. Key statistical data and other trends have been reviewed and discussed pertaining to future impacts on all aspects of the City.

The real measure of the Comprehensive Plan is in its value as a resource in assisting current and future Councils in its decision making process.

To be effective, this plan should be used to guide decisions relating to the following:

- The development, administration, and enforcement of regulatory ordinances based on the goals and objectives identified in this plan.
- The development of programs and support systems that further the goals and objectives set forth in this plan.
- The preparation of specific studies and completion of community improvement projects as identified in this plan.
- The establishment and support of a continued planning process that provides for periodic review and updates to this plan and other land use measures.

Plan Consistency

Inconsistencies between the elements were looked for during the planning process and review process. Noted consistencies were addressed in the plan.

Plan Updates

Ongoing evaluation of the plan is important. The needs of the City today may be different in the future. Revisions and amendments to the plan can be done at any time by following the requirements set forth in the Wisconsin Statutes.

At a minimum, the plan shall be updated no less than every five years.

Plan Actions

While the overall plan provides detailed information regarding the City of Medford, key strategies or recommendations have been made. This document is to be used as a guide balanced with fiscal realities. All suggestions included in this Comprehensive Plan will be reviewed annually by City personnel in its fiscal planning process and are subject to the decisions of the present and future Councils, federal and state regulations and mandates, economic, fiscal conditions, and City growth.
