Planting Trees? Here's a useful guide

The Right in the Right Place

The Arbor Day Foundation encourages thoughtful practices that help preserve community trees while also serving a utility company's customers.

This drawing demonstrates effective planting, placing the right tree in the right place. Trees properly placed can lower line clearance costs for utility companies, reduce tree mortality, and result in healthier community forests.

Trees can add value to your home, help cool your home and neighborhood, break the cold winds to lower your heating costs, and provide food for wildlife.

Tall trees surrounding your home, such as Maple, Oak, Pine and Spruce, provide summer shade to lower cooling costs and keep out cold winter winds.

Medium trees, 40 feet or less in mature height, might include Washington Hawthorne and Golden Raintree, while smaller trees suitable for planting beneath utility lines might include Redbud, Dogwood, and Crabapple. When planting near utility lines, consider a 25 foot maximum mature height and 20 foot spread.
