Community Highlights

City Construction Season

Here are a few updates on city construction underway or planned for 2023:

Public Works Facility: The new facility on 1200 N is scheduled for completion early this spring. This site will house the city's equipment and personnel that provide culinary water, roads maintenance, parks, storm water, snow plowing, etc.

Water Line Replacement:

This spring the city will be replacing the culinary water lines on 1890 North, 1810 North, and 560 West.

Residents on these roads will receive more information before work begins.

Road Maintenance: Later this summer the city will continue to treat roads with an seal coat to help preserve the asphalt.

Sidewalks and Trees: Several sidewalks throughout the city have been significantly damaged by adjacent trees. The city will be working to repair these areas.

Google Fiber

The Google Fiber project has received all necessary permits, and their contractors are currently working their way through the city installing conduit and fiber. As the weather warms, landscape restoration crews will repair park strips and front yards that have been disturbed.

The City does not currently have information on when the fiber services will be available, but we anticipate services to go live for some residents by March or April. For more information, contact Google Fiber at

Farewells

The Arts Council extends a farewell and huge thanks to Dianne Smith and Debbie McKean for their years of service and dedication as members of the Arts Council.

Dianne Smith has been with the Arts Council from the beginning. Dianne believes in the importance of supporting and cultivating the arts in our community, in 2005 she proposed to the Mayor and City Council that they should form an Arts Council. Dianne became the first Chairperson and council member. Shortly thereafter, several others joined her, with the mission of fostering the arts in our community. In April of 2006 the Arts Council sponsored the first of their monthly Concert Series program. At that time, she also served on the West Bountiful School Community Council and spearheaded supporting arts in the school. She was chairperson until 2009 when she and her husband Chad left to serve a church mission. After they returned, Dianne continued to serve as a key member of the Arts Council.

Debbie McKean served as a City Council member and the liaison between the City Council and the Arts Council. After serving as a City Council member, she continued with the Arts Council and eventually served as Treasurer. She was the driving force and organizer for the Independence Day celebration. She also organized and facilitated our beloved Cowboy Poetry Concert and the Spirit of the West Beautiful Award. Debbie has devoted many years to the Council, and we will miss her organizational expertise.

YOUTH COUNCIL Applications

Students going into grades 8 -12 next year are invited to apply for the West Bountiful Youth City Council. It's that time of year when most of us look forward to not being cooped up inside, especially after the heavy winter! Just like those prized spring flowers, we see other things popping out to enjoy warmer weather: Pet Owners, Kids, and Thieves.

Pet Owners: We have a beautiful city park and trail system here in West Bountiful. Perfect for families to get out and enjoy the sunshine, especially families with little four-legged fur babies. Despite how cute and cuddly we may find our own pets to be, others may not find them cute or cuddly. Remember, dogs at the park and on the trails are required to be always leashed, under your control, and you are required to clean up after them. Officers will be out this season offering friendly reminders.

Kids: Time to get out and play! When they aren't learning the latest Tik-Tok dance, playing the newest console game, or taking epic selfies, our youngest neighborhood friends are starting to emerge for outside activities like bicycling or basketball. Please keep an eye out for them while driving. Officers are taught that "A rolling ball is always followed by a child." Be particularly careful in areas with cars parked on the street where visibility isn't the best. And parents, now is the time of year for reminders to the kids about road safety.

Thieves: They love warmer weather, too! Spring brings open garages, tools left out, and other easy opportunities. We can all limit theft and burglaries, by reducing the opportunity. Even if you think it will take you less than a minute to grab a cool drink after working in the yard, take the right steps before your tool collection and hopes of the best yard in the neighborhood are gone. Keep your garage doors closed, remove valuables from cars even if they are in your garage and keep the doors locked. Please call us immediately if you find your items have been stolen.

Everyone here at the West Bountiful Police Department is looking forward to a great year. Don't be shy when you see us while you're out this Spring. We'd love to say Hi!
