1. Mayor Drew Farley called the meeting to order at 5:04 pm; Elizabeth Sunstrom provided a thought and Jeromy Nelson led the Pledge of Allegiance.
2. Trunk-or-Treat Overview - The council talked about how the trunk or treat went, and discussed what could be improved for next year. The council believes that setting up the day before would be helpful, and Bo Bartholemew brought up the fog machines not working how the council wanted them to. Next year the council plans to fix the fog machine, have more games, have balloons, a loop of "Just Dance", lawn signs for promotion, add a balloon arch, have better backdrops, and would like to attempt to create a tiny corn maze.
3. Thank You Notes - Melissa Morley brought thank you notes for the council to sign and give to those who helped with the trunk-or-treat. The council discussed that they should do thank you notes for all the people who help at different events in the future.
4. Christmas on Onion Street - The council broke into COOS (Christmas on Onion Street) committees to discuss current plans for the event. The food and decoration committee plans to make the event feel very festive with various decorations, the craft committee finalized a supply list, and the character committee is all ready for the event.
5. Ribbon Cutting Summary - The council discussed the success of the ribbon cutting. A lot of people from the community showed up, and the main issue encountered was there were not enough doughnuts for all the people who came.
